Tuesday's Child

Tuesday's Child has been feeding hungry children in Gaza since November 2007 and supports three primary schools in the strip. The charity, inspired by a Marian pilgrimage to Medugorje in May 2006, promotes justice for every child and donates 100 percent of proceeds. The charity has adopted the UN charter of children's human rights but recognises that the declaration has failed the children of Gaza for years while the world has stood back and done nothing.

Tuesday's Child founder, Orla Sheehan, said: "We are devastated by the recent conflict in the Middle East and, in particular, the slaughter of so many innocent children and young people. I visited the strip in September 2008 and have never witnessed a violation of human rights like Gaza. The injustices these forgotten children faced then were cruel beyond words. Their little lives were already so fragile and hanging on by a thread. They were suffering enough! Since 27th December, some of the children we were feeding have been killed; others have died slowly of starvation and dehydration. Hundreds of others are seriously injured, many are orphaned and have lost siblings and thousands have been left homeless; some we cannot locate. No child in this conflict will be left unscarred. The greatest tragedy of all is that, this war, has the potential to make the world an unsafe place for many more children around the world".

Chilldren in Gaza are living through a nightmare no adult should ever have to experience. Speaking from Gaza city, aid co-ordinator of the feeding programme said "in my bad dreams I never see it as bad as now...you can't imagine the situation...people killed lying in the streets for a few days and bodies eaten by dogs.....bits of body everywhere...and children all silent, all in shock".

"I am very honoured to be involved with such a wonderful project, Tuesday's Child is bringing hope and care to those most vulnerable".

Neil Hannon of The Divine Comedy

The divine Neil Hannon, playing two nights, said:

Neil Hannon said...

"I am delighted to have to have the chance to show my support for Tuesday's Child and their brilliant work in Gaza. The firing of rockets by Hamas into Israel is horrible and indiscriminate. The all-out-war waged by Israel on the men, women and children of Gaza has been utterly horrific, wholly disproportionate and tantamount to a war crime. When will the world's leaders stop talking and start acting to prevent the needless deaths of more children".

Eleanor McEvoy

Eleanor McEvoy said...
"The reason I support Tuesday's Child's concerts for Gaza is that I hate anything that hurts children. I have a little daughter and I was in Uganda before Christmas, where I saw at first hand the effects of hardship and deprivation on children. I can't imagine what it can be like for these kids to be in the front-line of hatred and warfare. They don't deserve it and it can't possibly ever be their fault."

Paul Brady

Paul Brady said...
"Irrespective of the political ins and outs of the Israeli/ Hamas situation it is totally unacceptable that hundreds of innocent children have lost their lives with hundreds more wounded. Irrespective of the Israelis right to defend themselves, the disparity in casualties between Israelis and Palestinians is a clear indication that totally disproportionate force has been used by Israel in this recent campaign. The lack of respect for ordinary Palestinians who have no alternative to living in Gaza even if they don't support Hamas is visible to all".

One Day International

One Day International said...
"We jumped at the chance to contribute to this fundraiser. As is often the case in relations between neighbouring countries, this conflict is complicated and ongoing. However the killing and maiming of innocent children is appalling and the work that Orla and her organisation do must be supported in any way possible."

"I am glad to be able to do something to alleviate the terrible suffering that has been inflicted on Gaza and, at the same time, to highlight the grave injustice that has been suffered by so many children and innocent people".

Liam 0 Maonlai

Liam O'Maonlai, truly offended by the atrocities in Gaza, said...
"There is no excuse for the bombing of innocent people. We are witnessing a creation of hell. I don't believe weapons are the answer on any side. The real war is in the mind and the heart. Music is the greatest gift we have as human beings. It connects us and brings us together. Music heals. A lullaby can send a child to sleep...".

Frances Black said...
"I was honoured to be asked to perform and hopefully help in some way to raise money to ease the pain and suffering of the Palestinian children in Gaza. The horrific scenes of slaughter must be kept in the public eye and the perpetrators of these war crimes must be brought to justice".

"I'm coming at this from an anti war perspective, killing and maiming innocent children on any side of any war or conflict is upsetting and a particularly brutal act."

Jack L

Jack L said...
When wars break out children are the most vulnerable and helpless of all. It's hard to fathom how horrible and nightmarish this must be for any child to have to suffer this kind of hardship and pain. We should all help in any capacity that we can to ease their torment.

that have come out of Gaza in recent weeks."

Eric Lalor - Sat 7th
